Company Policy

Technology Design LLC policy and business practices includes but is not limited to:

- Software, Products, and Services
- All Types of Communication
- Home, Office and Retail Space

Our "policies" are enforced by utilizing and accessing our website, services, and employee interaction including all types of information and communication through any means (even "redirection").

You (the "visitors") implicitly agree that you are responsible for all domestic and international laws. By accessing this website, and services you agree to be governed by the laws of the United States of America and the jurisdiction you reside. You are responsible for how you use this website, information, communication and our products before and after our services and do so at your own risk.

We reserve the right to revoke any authorization, retain data and can restrict access to our product and services without written notice from TECHNOLOGY DESIGN LLC.

You must agree to this company policy.

By accessing this site or any of our services, you agree to follow all applicable United States of America and international laws.

1. You agree to not hold TECHNOLOGY DESIGN LLC, employees, products and services responsible. You agree to indemnify and absolve each party outlined in this policy. We revoke the right to any previous policy or agreement even if signed. We do not give permission. You must agree to this company policy.

2. Our company policy does not allow any transmitted or recorded information to be gathered or used in any way shape or form. You must not copy, transmit or communicate anything about Technology Design LLC, employees, products or services for any reason. By using our services you agree to these company policies without any changes.
3. You are responsible for your software and downloads and the integrity of your device. Your responsibility is outlined in your software and service policy for the products you use and we are not responsible.
4. You must not present any information to another party. You must not relay any transmission about TECHNOLOGY DESIGN LLC and employees or service providers without getting written and signed authorization from our company. Doing so will go against this website policy and we will not be held responsible for misuse.
5. We provide precautions to protect your information by using a secure SSL connection and do not collect personal identifiable cookies that track you and can leak your personal information on the web. We are required to collect basic data that is retained by our hosting service and dynamic naming service provider to maintain safety, server integrity and quality. We use continually upgraded software like immunity 365 and cloudflare to check for software vulnerabilities that block all types of intrusion attempts.
6. TECHNOLOGY DESIGN LLC, owner, employees, business associates or services we purchase are not responsible for any liability for any misuse of this website, communication or business practice that results in anything including but not limited to ECONOMIC DISRUPTION, IDENTITY THEFT, BANKRUPTCY, PERSONAL INJURY, OR LOSS.
7. You are bound by this policy even if advised otherwise. If you disagree, you must submit a written notice by certified mail and discontinue using our services or related services immediately as specified in this policy (1). You are not allowed to use third party apps to access or use our website, service or information in any way shape or form.

8. You agree to be limited to no more than eighty dollars and no cents ($80.00).
Stop using our service immediately if you disagree with any of our policies.
TECHNOLOGY DESIGN LLC retains the legal right to settle all disputes through mediation, arbitration or applicable US court. Our service is provided "as is" with no guarantee.

9. The policies of this website will be changed at any time. You are responsible for all updated and previous policies.

10. Do not contact us with any opportunities or solicitations. Agreeable terms and conditions must be provided with no pressure, reviewed and agreed upon by our legal council when present in the room under no duress or outside influence.
